Mayor Jim Strickland City of Memphis

Mayor Jim Strickland is an attorney and politician who is the 64th and current mayor of Memphis, serving since 2016. A Democrat, he previously served as a member of the Memphis City Council. Strickland is also an adjunct professor at the Cecil C. Humphreys School of Law.

Strickland was born in Mishawaka, Indiana before moving to Memphis. He graduated from Christian Brothers High School in 1982 and received a bachelor's degree and law degree from the University of Memphis in 1989.

In 1998 Strickland opened a law firm with one of his classmates at the University of Memphis, David Kustoff. His professional experience also includes working in the law firm of Glankler Brown from 1990 to 1998, clerking for Justice William D. H. Fones of the Tennessee Supreme Court, and now as an adjunct law professor at the University of Memphis.

Strickland and his wife, Melyne, have two children.

Welcome Reception for New Members

Wow, what a good time we had at Mark Griffie's home on Wednesday evening where we enjoyed Margaritas and good Mexican food. It turned out there was no rain to spoil the fun until after everyone left. Many were seen on the terrace enjoying visiting with each other and our new members over the past two years. They were a happy bunch as they received their blue badge.

Words can't really express to Mark how much we appreciate him for welcoming us all into his beautiful home. And, now we all know Mark makes a mean Margarita.
